Terms and Conditions of Enrollment

Homeschool Excursions, Educational Excursions, Inc., and its representatives are authorized to make whatever arrangements and accommodations and to make such rules and regulations as they may deem advisable, in their decision, for the safety and welfare of the participants in general and the PARTICIPANT in particular.

Included rules are as follows:

- No use, or possession, of tobacco, alcohol, drugs, and/or weapons of any kind at any time
- Participants must stay in the group at all times
- Intentionally disruptive behavior will not be tolerated

Homeschool Excursions is not responsible for any injury or damages which result from weather or other acts of nature, accidents, illness, the demands and inherent risks of outdoor activities, strikes, acts of terrorism, or any other events beyond its direct control. PARTICIPANTS and their parents/guardian recognize and agree to assume these risks. Homeschool Excursions has the right to cancel the activity for any reason whatsoever at any time.

Neither Homeschool Excursions nor its representatives shall be responsible for any theft of, loss of, or damage to property or any bodily injury suffered by PARTICIPANT during the program.

I understand that Homeschool Excursions does not engage personnel qualified to provide medical, dental, or other similar care or services to PARTICIPANT. I agree to pay all costs and expenses incurred directly or indirectly by Homeschool Excursions for such care or services.

Homeschool Excursions may use photographs, video tapes, and testimonials of participants in marketing materials.
